

THE HARROX WEEKLY

Curriculum

Over the last couple of weeks, as well as celebrating World Book Day and Red Nose Day, the children have been involved in Science Week challenges. Each classroom was turned into a science laboratory where budding young scientists carried out all kinds of scientific experiments, making discoveries and finding answers to questions.

Special Achievements

This weeks Wow awards went to:
Jack and Oliver for organising detailed notes to support their writing of a historical account.
Jack for impressively learning his role for the Y3/4 Easter production.
Jamie for working hard in maths getting all the questions correct in a recent assessment.
Ben who created a wonderful mosaic picture inspired by the art studied in the Roman topic.
Jasmine created an emotive diary entry from the point of view of a Celtic warrior.
Mitchell, Mia, Wesamme and Riley have all created beautiful mengali patterns as part of their Hinduism topic in RE.

Reading Corner

To celebrate World Book Day the children were invited to create models of their favourite book characters. This challenge was keenly taken up by children across the whole school with many fabulous entries coming in. These can all be seen in the school library where they are currently displayed for all the children to see. The judges' job was very difficult with such a high standard of entries. The winners were announced in assembly, well done to:

KS1 1st – Zara 2nd – Grace 3rd Elsie

KS2 1st Wesamme – Harry Potter spoons 2nd Jessica Morris 3rd Jake Earth

Sporting News

The weather has affected play over recent weeks. However, there has been a hockey tournament where two teams represented the school. All the children played well with close scores in many games. The A team finished third in their league and the B team 2nd in theirs. They represented the school well as usual. There was also a girl's football match away to Wygate Park Academy. Although they lost 2-0 all the girls played well with the player of the match award going to Brooke. Our recently appointed playground leaders have made a fantastic start in their role. They have shown great leadership skills by organising games for the children to play during lunchtimes on a Tuesday and Thursday. They also arrange for a certificate to be presented for the higher achievers in the games and also to recognise the most sporting attitude displayed by children. Well done to all the weekly winners.
